Naturopathic Institute and Sanitarium of California,
644-650 St. Paul Avenue,
Los Angeles, California.

Attention: Dr. Carl Schultz, President and General Manager.

Dear Doctor:

This acknowledges your letter of January 27 last, in which you refer to a letter received by Mr. Howard R. Paxton from Dr. R. G. Howe, Secretary of the College of Chiropractic Physicians and Surgeons, the subject matter of which is the question of recognition of credits and hours and subjects by the College of Chiropractic Physicians and Surgeons, for time and instruction taken by Mr. Paxton in the Naturopathic Institute and Sanitarium of California.

I have examined the articles of incorporation of the Naturopathic Institute and Sanitarium of California in the office of the Secretary of State. From this examination, I find that the purposes for which this incorporation was formed are, among others:

"To give to the students, after a course of instruction of Naturopathic Therapeutics:

* * * * *

The degree of D. C. (Doctor of Chiropractic)."

It will be observed that these articles of incorporation only purport to give a degree (a diploma) of D. C. after a course of instruction of Naturopathic Therapeutics. It is not proposed that a course of chiropractic be given the student, either in accordance with the Chiropractic Act of California, or otherwise.

A degree is commonly understood and interpreted to mean a diploma, and with this definition in mind, we must interpret your articles to intend that your school will give a diploma of D. C. when a student has done nothing more nor less than take a course of instruction in Naturopathic Therapeutics. We know and it is commonly understood that while a course in Naturopathic Therapeutics covers some and maybe many of the same subjects required under the California Chiropractic Act to entitle a person to a degree of D. C, nevertheless it does not require a teaching of all of the subjects to become a Doctor of Naturopathy, as is required to become a Doctor of Chiropractic.

Unless your school was an incorporated chiropractic school or college teaching a course of not less than 2400 hours and giving the subjects provided for in section 5 of the California Chiropractic Act, a Degree of Chiropractic, which is the same as a diploma of Chiropractic, could not be recognized by the California Board of Chiropractic Examiners.

I might call your attention to the case of Commonwealth vs. New England College of Chiropractic, Inc., decided by the Supreme Judicial Court of Massachusetts in 1915, and found in Vol. 108, Northeastern Reporter, at page 895; and also the Massachusetts case of Wright vs. Lanckton, decided as far back as 1837, and reported in Vol. 19 of Pickering's Reports at page 288, both cases sustaining the conclusions we have reached.

I trust you will understand and appreciate that this Board has no desire to be arbitrary in these matters, but is merely endeavoring to perform, and is desirous of performing its duties fully and impartially and in full accordance with the Chiropractic Act, by which we are and must be governed.

Very respectfully yours,

Secretary.
